The Oak Ridge Leadership Computing Facility (OLCF) is pleased to announce the 2017 OLCF User Meeting will be held May 23-25 at Oak Ridge National Lab in Oak Ridge, TN. The purpose of this user meeting is to share selected computational science and engineering achievements emerging from OLCF's user programs, to enable direct interactions among users, advance OLCF's relationships with our user community, and highlight their computational requirements for the future. In addition, the OLCF would like to invite you to help celebrate the OLCF's 25th anniversary.

The meeting will feature paired talks from OLCF users and application developers. This is an opportunity for users to share their scientific accomplishments and state-of-the-art computational development methods. The meeting will also feature plenary talks, panels, and center updates from the OLCF staff.

Other highlights include:

Poster Sessions: You will have two opportunities to participate in an OLCF poster session featuring posters from both OLCF users and ORNL staff.

Tour: Attendees will also be offered a tour the OLCF Facility, including stops at the observation area to see Titan and a stop at EVEREST, the OLCF scientific analysis and visualization laboratory.

OUG Elections: Elections will be held during the OLCF User Meeting for the open spots on the OLCF Executive Board User Group. The OLCF User Meeting is open to current and future users. More information about elections will be forthcoming.

Attending via Webinar: For participants who cannot attend on-site, a BlueJean event has been set up. Please follow instructions below to attend:

We encourage all participants to contribute a poster to the 2017 OLCF Users Meeting. Poster presenters will be given an opportunity to advertise their poster during a “poster slam” event during the User Meeting.

Logistics:

When/Where: The Poster Session will be held in the late afternoon on both Tuesday and Wednesday, in the Bldg. 5200 Lobby. Heavy hors d’oeuvres will be served at the event.

How do I submit a poster?: In order to plan accordingly and give us the opportunity to promote your poster, please fill out the information requested below no later than Friday, May 12, 2017.

What size poster should I bring?: Posters should be 30H x 40L.

Will ORNL print my poster? For your convenience, ORNL will print your poster if received by Friday, May 12, 2017. To have your poster printed by ORNL, send a PDF copy to help@olcf.ornl.gov by the May 12th deadline.

Tell us about your Poster

If you plan to present a poster, please fill out the following fields for each poster you plan to present:
